

Nita Pullova has just won the Wimbledon Ladies' Singles title. She has sent this text message to her mother in Moscow. Because she is excited there are lots of mistakes. Write out her message in correct English, using complete sentences.

Imagine that you are Nita's mother.
Write a text reply to her.

Write another version of your message in correct English. Use complete sentences.

It is the day after Nita Pullova won the Wimbledon Ladies' Singles title. She is more relaxed and has time to send an email to her mother, describing the last twenty four hours. Imagine that you are Nita and write the email.

The Daily Blagg

Sammi Scoop is the new sports writer for The Daily Blagg. She is reporting on the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

Unfortunately, her punctuation is not very good.
Help her out by correcting these sentences.

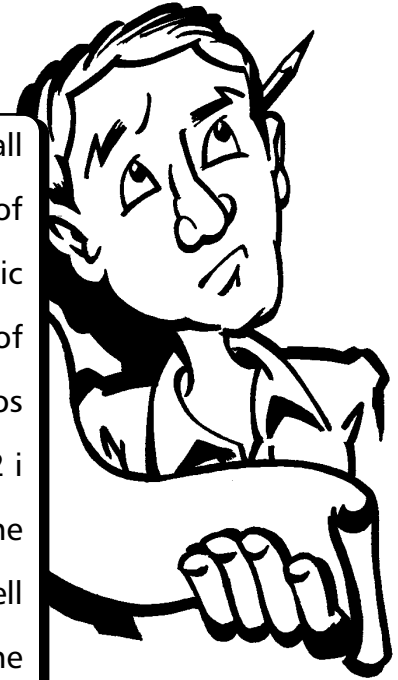

1. In last years mens singles he lost his opening match it went to four sets
2. its looking good for him in the next round he should face Albie Senior whos unseeded
3. after two set's Marias game fell apart from then on she served eight double faults'
4. he has a big serve in his bag he carries six racquet's a spare pair of lace's a bunch of banana's and a small stuffed rhinocero's
5. now theres a possibility of losing his toe its infected and he will have to have an operation is it serious I asked him
6. ivanic came close to victory in the past he has beaten the frenchman his lob's werent effective and he lost in five sets'

Sammi's boss, Ivor Storey, also makes mistakes.

Read this piece and circle all the examples of incorrect punctuation.

its wimbledon again it comes around every year and were all tennis fans for two week's this year its different theres a new roof on the centre court this wont please the people who sell plastic mac's but its going to mean fewer matche's delayed because of rain in the players lounge i interviewed aylish mcdooal whos britains top woman player in the world she is ranked number 22 i asked her if she had a chance of winning I don't see why not she replied ive had some good win's this year my trainings going well im improving and ive kept free of injuries' in america I reached the semi final of the florida open and lost to nelly orlova who won the title two years ago

1. How many errors are there in total?

2. Rewrite the article with the correct punctuation.

